ABOUT JUSTIN

Justin Moore has built a loyal fanbase over the past decade with his traditional Country sound and captivating live shows. He most recently released his fourth studio album KINDA DON'T CARE earning the singer his third consecutive No. 1 album debut and featuring his chart-topping singles "You Look Like I Need A Drink" and "Somebody Else Will." The 16-track project skyrocketed to No. 1 on the iTunes

Country chart upon release. The Arkansas native spent three years putting the project together, which serves as a follow up to his second No. 1 album release, the GOLD-certified OFF THE BEATEN PATH.

Moore holds seven No. 1's under his signature white cowboy hat including "Point at You" and "Lettin' The Night Roll" as well as seven Top 10 hits and PLATINUM-certified albums JUSTIN MOORE and OUTLAWS LIKE ME. The Valory Music Co. recording artist has earned multiple ACM, ACA and ACC Awards nominations as well as an ACM Award win. He has shared the stage with Hank Williams Jr., Brad Paisley, Miranda Lambert and Brantley Gilbert and is currently traversing the country entertaining audiences.

Moore is currently working on his fifth full-length album, due out in 2019. The first track from the LP, "The Ones That Didn't Make It Back Home," was released to all digital partners on October 12, 2018 and was co-written alongside Paul DiGiovanni, Chase McGill and producer Jeremy Stover.

ABOUT RILEY

Riley Green is a country music artist from Jacksonville, AL. If Riley isn't strumming a six-string and singing, chances are you'll find him deep sea fishing in Orange Beach, AL or deer hunting at his 'Back 40 Bash' property.

Riley has achieved an incredible amount of success as an independent artist from selling out venues including Exit/In, Iron City, Soul Kitchen, and Georgia Theatre; to his last EP, "Outlaws Like Us", reaching #2 on the iTunes Country chart.

His fan base is not just limited to music, as his outdoor show "In the Hunt with Riley Green" has reached many new fans through airing on The Pursuit Channel.

Be on the lookout for new music and a new outdoor show partnership in 2018.
